

Marco Scirea

has successfully completed the 2 hour workshop

teachIT – Use your voice

at the IT University of Copenhagen on 29 September 2016

Workshop content:

The workshop looks at how the character of your voice determines if your audience or students listen with curiosity or lose their attention.

Learn how to be authentic and present when using your voice.

Modulate your voice and speech according to the content, context and purpose of your teaching or presentation.
